

Question 1

What is the ultimate purpose of analytics in the context of delivering insights and findings? 1 / 1 point

To develop PowerPoint slides with graphics and tables.

To create comprehensive reports with numerous tables and plots.

To generate essays and reports in academia.

To summarize findings in tables and plots for communication.

Correct

Correct! The ultimate purpose of analytics is to summarize findings in tables and plots for effective communication of insights and findings.

Question 2

What is the primary advantage of utilizing big data clusters? 1 / 1 point

They allow for easy distribution and parallel data processing.

They require fewer servers to handle large datasets.

They reduce the need for statistical analysis.

They simplify data analysis by centralizing all data.

Correct

Correct! The content highlights that big data clusters distribute data to many computers for parallel processing.

Question 3

What is the key message in the Deloitte report, "United States Economic Forecast"? 1 / 1 point

The report primarily discusses income inequality in the United States.

The report highlights the need for increased government intervention in the economy.

The report presents a positive view of the robustness of the U.S. economy.

The report emphasizes the decline in U.S. economic growth.

Correct

Correct. The text mentions that the report focuses on the good news about the U.S. economy, indicating a positive view of its robustness.